

My Success Story

I came to see Dr. Parminderpal Singh, at Southwest Eye Surgeons, after receiving three wrong diagnoses, with the vision in my right eye virtually non-existent. A cataract, a brown covering over the lens of my eye, made driving at night impossible and during the day I drove only by necessity. Reading was a struggle and a hardship as it is the focus of my work.

Dr. Singh patiently listened to my frustrations and problems, and after an initial examination was able to tell me what my problem was and how it could be corrected. His quiet confident manner and thorough explanations gave me the assurance I needed at that time.

Dr. Singh did the surgery with skill and care that made me feel at ease. There was very little pain and no bruising around the eye at all. The result was very gratifying. I now have clear vision, no problems driving and can again do my job without the strain and headaches that resulted.

I am so grateful to Dr. Singh and will continue as a patient for other problems, with confidence.
